

JACOB KOSSMAN

WEB DEVELOPER & GRAPHIC DESIGNER

Finding the right program to fit my love for design as well as the more technical aspects of computers was challenging but I found it at the Graphic/Web Design B.Sc program at the Art Institute of California: Hollywood. Meshing my background in Computer Science and my zeal for design, I've discovered a very well balanced future for myself. I use these two halves of my life to create aesthetically pleasing, functional and dynamic web projects. In my spare time I like to nerd out to things like the adorable yet powerful Raspberry Pi, expand my cinematic horizons, and find other random little side projects to keep myself busy.

SKILLS

JACOB@KOSSMN.COM / {323} 394 3744